WELCOME TO CIRCUIT DE BARCELONA-CATALUNYA

Circuit de Barcelona-Catalunya is gearing up to welcome the FIA Formula One World Championship. This will be the 35th consecutive year that the Circuit has hosted the event, and it coincides with the 75th anniversary of F1®. The paddock is already decked out in its finest attire and preparing to welcome the action on the track in just a few days' time.

In this special edition for both parties, the outlook is somewhat different. You could say that the Circuit has been Verstappen and Hamilton territory for the last decade. Since 2016, no other driver has taken the victory. Yet this year, the dynamic could change with the rise of McLaren.

Oscar Piastri and Lando Norris, the Woking-based team's duo, occupy the top two positions with an internal battle between the two that shows no signs of abating any time soon. The Australian leads the points table with a total of 161, two more than his British teammate. Piastri now has four wins in eight races, as well as three third places. His worst finish was ninth. Norris, meanwhile, has two more wins, as well as five podiums, with his worst finish being fourth.

These numbers are impressive, as McLaren has only lost in Japan and Italy, races won by Max Verstappen, who is third in the World Championship with 136 points. Although the Circuit favours the Dutchman and the performance of the Red Bull RB21, there are other drivers who are coming on strong this season.

In the Constructors' Championship, Mercedes AMG Petronas F1 Team is in second place, thanks in part to George Russell's performances, who is currently fourth in the Drivers' Championship. His 99 points reflect his frequent presence on the podium, having celebrated in half of the races contested to date. Charles Leclerc follows with 79 points and somewhat more modest results. Nevertheless, the Monegasque driver arrives with extra motivation after his second-place finish in his home Grand Prix, which will give him a boost.

This motivation will also be evident in local heroes Carlos Sainz and Fernando Alonso. Sainz is currently 12th in the standings in his debut season with Atlassian Williams Racing, having scored valuable points in recent rounds. This upward trend could continue at the Circuit. The same could happen to Fernando Alonso, whose run of bad luck has so far prevented him from scoring any points. Hopefully, Circuit de Barcelona-Catalunya will bring him some good news in front of the home crowd.

More home drivers in F2 and F3

As usual, the premier class will be accompanied by its two younger siblings, two competitions that complete a top-level sporting programme for spectators.

In F2, Catalan driver Pepe Martí (Campos Racing) is competing in his second season, achieving some outstanding results, including a victory.

Imola and Monaco did not go well for him, but he could turn the situation around at the Circuit. Martí arrives at his home GP in seventh position. Meanwhile, Luke Browning (Hitech TGR), Alexander Dunne (Rodin Motorsport) and Leonardo Fornaroli (Invicta Racing) lead the category standings in that order.

2025

In F3, there is double representation thanks to Mari Boya (Campos Racing) and Bruno del Pino (MP Motorsport). Boya closes out the top 10 with 32 points, while Del Pino sits in 17th place in the championship with a total of 11 points. The rivals setting the pace and who could shine at the circuit are Rafael Camara (Trident), Tim Tramnitz (MP Motorsport) and Nikola Tsolov (Campos Racing).

PROPOSALS FOR THE PUBLIC

The Fan Zone expands its offerings

The traditional Fan Zone, located in the public area behind the Main Grandstand, is the main attraction at each edition, with activities for all tastes. For the occasion, the world championship will have an additional Fan Zone next to Grandstand S. This will allow the F1 activities to reach different parts of the track.

This year's event will feature eSports simulators, recreations of a podium and selfies with the drivers, wind tunnel simulations and the opportunity to see a single-seater car and a championship trophy. In addition, there will be virtual pit lane visits, where you can explore an F1 garage with augmented reality, as well as a pit stop challenge, in which participants must change the tyres of an F1 car in the shortest time possible.

A stage will also be set up behind the Main Grandstand where some of the event's protagonists (drivers and team managers) will be interviewed on Friday and Saturday in front of all the fans who want to attend the Fan Forum. The Rememberland Show will take place there on Saturday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m., hosted by the Dream Team Megamix (Quique Tejada and Toni Peret).

One circuit, different entertainment areas

Circuit de Barcelona-Catalunya continues to offer a wide range of spaces throughout the circuit where there will be endless entertainment.

The Green Zone and the Kids Zone will be located in the area of the Crater Forest. In the Green Zone, activities will focus on sustainability and the environment, and visitors will be able to see a full-scale white single-seater car, which will be turned into a canvas for the artist 'Pilat', a Danish illustrator known for her colourful artwork. There will also be a version of a slot track with bicycles. In the Kids Zone, children will be able to take part in various workshops, such as bubble workshops, handmade crowns, personalised bags, trampolines and wooden games, among other activities.

This year, the Pelouse Jove (Turn 4) will be brought to life by Santander. There will be a giant screen to follow the action on the track, live music, a photocall and more.

Finally, in the Orange Zone - dedicated to the Dutch public in Grandstand G - Dutch DJ Admin Rick Jansen will be in charge of entertaining fans throughout the weekend.

Quique Tejada and Toni Peret, the Dream Team Megamix, will also play a leading role on Grand Prix Sunday, entertaining the crowd from the Circuit podium after the F1 race on Sunday.

In addition, the Castellers de Vilafranca del Penedés will also be there on Sunday to perform their impressive human towers. One of them will be at 11.15 a.m. on the stage near the Main Grandstand and the other at the starting grid at 1.30 p.m.

Pit Walk and Open Track, two unique experiences

As usual, on Thursday 29 May from 5.30 p.m. to 7.30 p.m., the Pit Walk will take place, allowing fans to access the pit lane, where some World Championship riders are expected to be present. To ensure the smooth running of the event, attendance will be limited by free invitations available to download from the Circuit website, which are already sold out. Those without a free invitation will not be able to access the Circuit or participate in the activity, even if they have a ticket for the GP.

The finale will be the Open Track, during which attendees will have the opportunity to access the track once the Formula 1 race has finished, which will take place on Sunday 1 June at 3 p.m. This is a great opportunity to take part in the podium ceremony, as you will be able to enter the main straight and any other point on the track. Several access points will be set up in the public areas for this purpose.

The commitment to sustainability is once again a fundamental pillar for the Catalan circuit, which aims to raise awareness and sensitise the public about respect for the environment.

To this end, the Barcelona circuit will have its usual "Sustainability Meeting Points", located in the Crater Forest area and behind Grandstand G, open on Saturday from 8:30 am to 2:30 pm and on Sunday from 8:30 am to 1:30 pm.

Under the 3C management philosophy (Conscience, Commitment and Consistency), which integrates social, economic and environmental dimensions, the Circuit works to achieve responsible activity in its mission 'Driving for a better future', within the framework of the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development Goals.

As in previous editions, many actions will be carried out on the Barcelona track for an ISO 20121-certified F1 Grand Prix, including the following:

- Use of 100% certified energy from renewable sources to support the electricity supply.
- Energy self-sufficiency of up to 50% with photovoltaic solar panels.
- Rental of low-emission generators in the paddock.
- Offering km0 and organic food at the catering outlets.
- Availability of sun cream dispensers and shaded areas.
- Promotion of sustainable mobility with electric vehicle charging points within the facilities (14), and use of electric vehicles by suppliers and Circuit staff for internal mobility.
- Zero waste commitment: Reusable cups in bars and water fountains (in public areas and in the paddock). Use of the circular economy by reusing tyres and drums. Waste recovery and recycling.
- Donation of surplus food by the teams to the local social organisation El Xiprer.
- Improvement of biodiversity in the Educational Crater Forest through sustainable forest management. On Saturday 31 between 9:30 am and 1:30 pm in the Kids Zone, there will be a biodiversity workshop for all children who come along.
- Installation of two Purple Points in the public areas.
- Social involvement through activities such as an educational visit to a mechanics school, with instruction and advice from F1 professionals for the students.

Mobility inside and outside the Circuit

This year, electric vehicles from the Red Cross will facilitate the movement of people with reduced mobility within the venue, accompanied by volunteers. In addition, there will be a special public transport schedule to ensure quick, comfortable and sustainable travel to the Circuit de Barcelona-Catalunya, either by train (Rodalies de Catalunya) or by bus (Sagalés). The Circuit also offers a free bus service from Montmeló and Parets train stations.

Attendees will find various QR codes distributed throughout the public areas to access detailed information on sustainability. In the Main Grandstand, for example, information on energy self-sufficiency will be available, and details on food donations will be provided at Aramark's catering points.

In this way, the Circuit encourages everyone involved in the event to contribute to the actions to ensure the sustainable management of the FORMULA 1 ARAMCO GRAN PREMIO DE ESPAÑA 2025.
